Notice

Exhibitors with their own electrical distribution boards are reminded that a residual current circuit breaker is mandatory. Power may not be drawn from the ducts or wall sockets or passed on to neighboring stands and will result in the complete connection being switched off. Each socket outlet per stand must be ordered and fused individually; it is no longer possible to install additional socket outlets within a stand for safety reasons.

Please note: Please send a stand sketch with the desired position of the connections with your order. Orders and changes received after the return date will be invoiced with a 25% surcharge.

Your stand already includes:

230V/50Hz AC connection, up to 2kW type Schuko, laid right up to the stand
